Certificate of Study for Re-Examination

Code of Laws of South Carolina (1976, as amended, Title 40, Chapter 22)

Section 40-22-230, Re-Examination

Code of Regulations, Chapter 49, Regulation 49-104D, Re-Examination

The following applies to: Professional Engineer (Category A), Associate Professional Engineer (Category B), Land Surveyor (Tier A and Tier B):

- A candidate who has failed the same topical examination two times shall provide evidence satisfactory to the Board that the candidate has taken steps such as additional schooling, classes, seminars, or self-study to better prepare the candidate for a third examination on the same topical subject. The Board may refuse further examination unless a candidate failing the same topical examination twice has shown evidence satisfactory to the Board that measures have been taken to enhance the candidate's chances of success.
- An application update is required of a candidate having failed the same topical examination three times for a new determination by the board as to whether the candidate has the necessary experience and other qualifications for admittance to further examinations.
